

Welspun Corp Ltd — Nov 2023 Quarterly Analysis

1. VERDICT & BUSINESS QUALITY SNAPSHOT

Result: Strong Beat One-line: The thesis is evolving from a cyclical "Line Pipe" play to a diversified "Building Materials" powerhouse, validated by a massive deleveraging (Net Debt down 62% QoQ) and structural turnarounds in Stainless Steel and Sintex.

| Dimension                    | This Quarter       | Signal / Evidence                                                                                     | Sentiment |
|------------------------------|--------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| Beat/Miss vs Guidance        | Strong Beat        | H1 EBITDA (₹920 Cr) is 61% of FY24 guidance (₹1,500 Cr); revenue on track at ₹8,129 Cr.               | ☐         |
| Earnings Quality             | Moderate           | PAT boosted by Mauritius restructuring gain; however, core OCF is high from US inventory liquidation. | ☐         |
| Guidance Confidence          | Strong             | Mgmt reiterates ₹15,000 Cr revenue floor; Saudi and US order books provide multi-year visibility.     | ☐         |
| Management Credibility       | Strong             | "Walked the talk" on net debt reduction (₹823 Cr YTD) and WSSL (Stainless) turnaround.                | ☐         |
| Business Quality Signal      | Improving          | Diversification into DI Pipes and Sintex reduces dependence on lumpy O&G project cycles.              | ☐         |
| Key Q&A Exchange             | Q#4 - Saudi Stake  | Confusion over stake sale clarified as "economic interest neutral" Mauritius restructuring.           | ☐         |
| The Street's Primary Anxiety | Project Continuity | Fear of election-led slowdown; Mgmt countered with export/O&G agnosticism.                            | ☐         |
| Capital Cycle Stage          | Growth-Investment  | Expanding DI capacity (₹300 Cr) and Sintex (₹350 Cr) to capture demand tailwinds.                     | ☐         |
| Margin Trajectory            | Improving          | EBITDA margins jumped from 2.3% (Q2FY23) to 12.4% (Q2FY24) on better mix.                             | ☐         |
| Pricing Power                | Stable             | Pass-through in Line Pipes; Sintex maintaining brand premium during re-energization.                  | ☐         |
| FCF Conversion & Quality     | Strong             | Net Debt reduction of ₹520 Cr in Q2 alone; US inventory liquidation is a massive cash generator.      | ☐         |
| Competitive Moat Signals     | Widening           | Only integrated producer in Stainless; US competitor exits (Stupp/ Evraz) consolidate WCL's position. | ☐         |
| Balance Sheet Strength       | Strong             | Net Debt/EBITDA now < 0.3x (annualized); massive buffer for growth capex.                             | ☐         |
| Working Capital Efficiency   | Improving          | Inventory levels reduced significantly from March-23 levels.                                          | ☐         |
| Mgmt Guidance Track Record   | Reliable           | Consistent delivery on volume and debt targets over the last three quarters.                          | ☐         |
| Key Vulnerability            | Raw Material Vol   | Saudi order book is 2 years out; 10-20% RM exposure remains unhedged.                                 | ☐         |
| Management Tone              | Aggressive         | Focused on market share gains in B2C (Sintex/TMT) and "pole position" in US/Saudi.                    | ☐         |

Sentiment: ☐Positive

Key Takeaways (Positives & Negatives): * Positives: Structural deleveraging is ahead of schedule, with Net Debt falling from ₹1,138 Cr to ₹315 Cr in six months. The Stainless Steel (WSSL) vertical is a complete turnaround story, now profitable and foraying into the USA. US market dynamics have turned highly favorable following the exit/dormancy of major competitors (Stupp and Evraz), leaving WCL as a dominant player in the Permian basin. DI Pipe execution is exceptional (73 KMT in H1 vs 3 KMT YoY), prompting a strategic 100 KMT capacity expansion. * Negatives: The Saudi Arabia operations, while having a massive order book, are subject to lumpy revenue recognition (Q1 loss vs Q2 profit). The Building Materials segment (Sintex) is still at low utilization (~20%) as the distribution network is rebuilt. * Street Concern: Analysts were primarily concerned about the sustainability of margins and the impact of the upcoming general elections on water projects. Management effectively mitigated this by highlighting that oil & gas and exports (the bulk of the order book) are election-agnostic. * Watchpoint: The execution of the SAR 1.8 Billion Aramco order and the progress of the greenfield Sintex PVC pipe plant in Telangana (₹50 Cr investment).

PATTERN FLAGS & SENTIMENT * Deleveraging Focus: Analysts were surprised by the pace of debt reduction. Management's posture was extremely confident, pointing to inventory liquidation in the US and scrap sales from ABG as the primary levers. This concern has shifted from "can they pay debt?" to "where will they deploy cash?". * Sintex Scaling: Multiple questions targeted Sintex's future. Management was deliberately vague on numbers but focused on "brick-by-brick" distribution rebuilding. The foray into PVC pipes (Telangana) was the most significant incremental news. * Analyst Sentiment Verdict: Analysts were bullish on the core business execution but curious about the "Mauritius restructuring" impact. Management's credibility has reached a peak as they achieved turnarounds in both DI Pipes and Stainless Steel ahead of most analyst models. The shift toward B2C (Sintex/TMT) is being viewed as a significant valuation re-rating trigger.
